

Fastmarkets MB and Fastmarkets AMM base metals holiday pricing schedule 2019

Fastmarkets MB and Fastmarkets AMM's base metals price assessments are published in accordance with the London Metal Exchange holiday calendar, which reflects bank holidays in England and Wales.

This means that base metals prices assessed by Fastmarkets across the world are published on every LME business day, including between Christmas and New Year, but are not published or rolled over during LME holidays (eight days in total).

Base metals prices that are due to be published on LME holidays or weekends will instead be published on the closest working day that precedes or follows that date, and wherever possible on a day that falls in the same calendar month.

Base metals prices assessed by reporters in Shanghai, Singapore, Brazil and the United States will also follow the LME holiday calendar. They will not be published on English holidays but will be published even when there is a public holiday in these countries. Shanghai base metal premiums, for instance, will be published but rolled over during Chinese national holidays.

The only exception is Fastmarkets MB and AMM's

China and US copper scrap prices, which mostly trade basis the Comex copper price, and therefore will follow the Chicago Mercantile Exchange (CME) holiday calendar rather than the LME's. Where these prices fall on a US holiday, publication will move to the closest working day that precedes or follows that date and on a day that falls in the same calendar month.

For all other base metals prices, including all scrap and secondary alloy prices, and for Fastmarkets' alumina index, bauxite prices, nickel sulfate and ferro-nickel premiums, the LME holiday calendar will dictate the schedule.

The LME calendar will also apply to the copper concentrates index, zinc and lead concentrate and blister copper prices. Where these prices fall on an English holiday, publication will move to the closest working day that precedes that date.

Please see the pricing calendar below for the base metals pricing schedule for the remainder of 2019.

This notice does not include nickel pig iron, nickel ore and other minors, ores and alloys or steel prices, which have separate pricing calendars.*
